

From: minaxi patel [<mailto:>]
Sent: Friday, 10 December 2010 12:45 PM
To: Kathleen Almond
Subject: Comment

Hello,

It would be good if students who finished their education from listed countries in consultation Draft can work as a RN to provide medical treatment to our patients in hospital and community.

We are shortage of Nurses in Australia this is the good time to give them chance to demonstrate their various medical skills.

As long as they can provide effective treatment to the patient with good communication skills and by using their nursing skills.

I think we should apply that new consultation draft for nursing students.