

From: jagoda koteska [\[m\]](#)
Sent: Monday, 22 November 2010 2:17 PM
To: Kathleen Almond
Subject: No to English Test for NURSES

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I am writing to support all Nurses who have recently graduated and who have done their hard work balancing family life, work and study.
They should not be punished by making them to sit an English test AFTER they have completed their course.

If required, English test should be done BEFORE someone commences a study.

Regards

JAGODA Koteska

The content of this e-mail, including attachments, may be subject to privilege and confidentiality. Any confidentiality or privilege is not waived or lost because an e-mail has been sent to you by mistake. If you have received this message in error, please contact the sender by reply e-mail and delete the message and any attachment. Any unauthorised use of the e-mail account or the contents of the e-mail is strictly prohibited.